

Selected Papers on Formosan Languages

Contents

Volume 1

Preface	i
---------------	---

自序	v
----------	---

General

1. 〈台灣南島語言〉 [Formosan languages] (1998)	1
2. Formosan languages: The state of the art (2000)	49
3. The lingue franche in Taiwan (1996)	67
4. 〈語言的區域特徵〉 [Linguistic areal features] (1978)	73
5. New data on three extinct Formosan languages (1993)	91

Phonology

1. Alternations between semiconsonants and fricatives or liquids (1974)	109
2. 〈馬加音韻初步報告〉 [Maga phonology: A preliminary report] (1975)	133
3. Thao phonology (1976)	149
4. Morphophonemic alternations in Formosan languages (1977)	169
5. Variations in the Tsou dialects (1979)	207
6. The phonological rules of Atayal dialects (1980)	229
7. Kavalan phonology: Synchronic and diachronic (1982)	283
8. The preglottalised stops in Bunun (1987)	301
9. Vowel deletion and vowel assimilation in Seediq (1991)	311

Syntax

1. The case-marking systems of the four less-known Formosan languages
(1978) 321
2. The case-marking system in Mayrinax, Atayal (1995)..... 387
3. The pronominal systems in Rukai (1996)..... 415
4. A syntactic typology of Formosan languages—Case markers on nouns and pronouns (1997)..... 443
5. Some problems in the Basay language (1999)..... 479
6. Some aspects of Pazih syntax (2000)511
7. Nominalization in Pazih (2002)..... 545

Reconstruction

1. The internal relationships of Rukai (1977)..... 559
2. Reconstruction of proto-Atayalic phonology (1981)..... 625
3. Atayalic final voiced stops (1982)..... 693
4. The dialectal differences in Atayal in I-Lan (1998).....711
5. A comparative study of Bunun dialects (1998)..... 743
6. Some plant names in Formosan languages (1994) 767